Katherine Dereli

Dead Industry And Friendly Objects

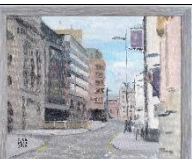

Katherine Dereli is a Lancashire based oil painter with a classical training in sculpture. Her subjects are various: figures, carefully arranged still-life objects, landscapes, painted quickly in the field or laboured over in the studio. What unites them is a particular approach to paint. Katherine tries to carefully observe and reproduce colour from life, mixed cleanly on the palette and laid down to create a varied surface of alternating high detail and broad 'messy' brushwork.

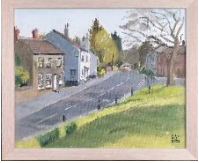

This is an exhibition about particular motifs Katherine often returns to: teacups, pot plants, mundane household objects and empty, lonely, nostalgic landscapes. Katherine wants to create artwork which is loaded with her own subjective experience but with enough breadth for the viewer to formulate their own connection with the subject and the raw stuff of paint.

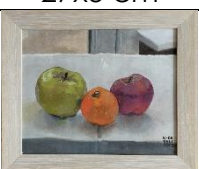

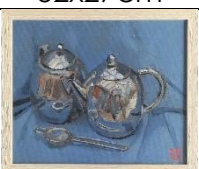

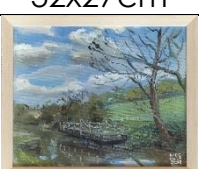

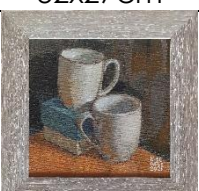

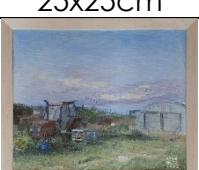

Work from the exhibition can be purchased from the Shop on the Ground Floor.

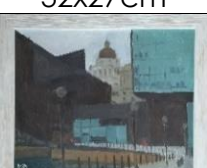

Works priced between £100 and £2500 can be purchased through the Own Art scheme in ten monthly instalments with no additional fees or interest. See staff in the shop to book an appointment or email jemma.tynan@sefton.gov.uk
